

The RENASYS Negative Pressure Wound Therapy System

The RENASYS System from Smith & Nephew is bringing choice and flexibility to Negative Pressure Wound Therapy (NPWT). The market leader in advanced wound care, Smith & Nephew has a 150-year legacy of developing medical technologies designed to repair and heal the human body.

The RENASYS NPWT system helps promote wound healing and improve patient comfort, while allowing clinicians to use their full clinical judgment in treating each individual patient. Two different pump options offer flexibility in treating a wide variety of wounds in acute or home care settings, while innovative design features make it easy to operate. Simple and powerful, the RENASYS NPWT system delivers the clinical benefits of negative pressure while improving ease of use, cost-effectiveness and the overall patient experience.
